

Privacy Policy

As part of my privacy policy, information provided through this website will be stored confidentially and in line with GDPR.

You would never be contacted by me in the first instance unless you contact me via email or telephone requesting that I contact you.

I take your privacy seriously and will never share your personal details with a third party, without your permission.

GDPR Information:

Q What do you do with contact details made via the website? (phone or email)

Email addresses and phone numbers are stored confidentially for the purpose of contact during the time you are in therapy. Once therapy has discontinued your details will be deleted. I keep paper records for a period of 5 years in a locked file which is a requirement of my insurance policy. Once this period has passed all paper data will be destroyed.

Q How long will you retain it?

Digital data will be removed as soon as therapy has discontinued. All paper copies shall be retained for 5 years which is in keeping with my insurance policy.

Q How and why are you collecting data?

I collect data for communication purposes if you are receiving therapy.

Q What if people do not wish for their information to be kept?

Requesting your information to not be stored will impact on your eligibility for treatment as Healing Kind needs your contact information in order to arrange treatment session appointments.

Note keeping- All notes are kept electronically under a password protected file. The notes are anonymised, minimal and for supervision purposes.
